IAN WHITEHURST

Ian is vastly experienced in all aspects of confiscation law both in a criminal and a regulatory enforcement context. He has appeared extensively in the Magistrates', Crown, High Court and Court of Appeal dealing with a myriad of complex confiscation cases. Ian has also advised on matters with an overseas element and has lectured the police and numerous prosecutorial agencies (the CPS, BIS and the SFO) on confiscation law.

PAUL SMITH

Paul is a Chartered Accountant with a background in public sector finance and consultancy. He has advised on options (including termination) relating to cost saving opportunities in existing PFI contracts as well as supporting public sector clients in PFI contract disputes. His expertise in the operation of PFI contract payment mechanisms has been instrumental in these resulting in significant refunds to the public sector body following an adjudication process.

EMMALINE LAMBERT

Emmaline specialises in planning and environmental law and she regularly appears in planning inquiries relating to s.78 appeals, enforcement notice appeals, CPO inquiries and confiscation proceedings under POCA. She is regularly instructed in applications under s.187B for injunctions in the High Court. Emmaline is recommended as a leading practitioner in planning law by the Legal 500 and is co-author of 'Planning Enforcement' (Wildys, 2015).

GILES ATKINSON

Giles specialises in planning, local government and regulatory law. His expertise covers advocacy and advisory work concerned with planning, development management, policy and particularly enforcement work, on behalf of local authorities, developers and private individuals. Giles's practice, regularly takes him to the criminal courts prosecuting and defending allegations arising from s179, non compliance with enforcement notices and resultant confiscation order matters under the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002.

THIS SEMINAR WILL PROVIDE 3 CPD POINTS FOR SOLICITORS
